The National Service Scheme (NSS)and the Social Club of Jagran Institute of Management, Kanpur, organized a Food Items and Clothes Donation Drive on November 25, 2026, in collaboration with two social organizations, Bhavana Welfare Foundation and Nai Raah Foundation, Parmat, Kanpur.

The initiative aimed to support underprivileged and needy individuals by distributing essential food items, stationery materials, and clothes at different locations. The primary objective of the drive was to promote the values of social responsibility, compassion, cooperation, and community service among students and faculty members, in accordance with the objectives of NSS.

During the drive, faculty members and students actively participated in the distribution activities and interacted with people in need. Through this initiative, the institute sought to spread awareness about social responsibility and encourage students to contribute positively towards society. The programme also highlighted the importance of empathy, kindness, and collective efforts in bringing meaningful change to the lives of underprivileged communities.

On this occasion, Dr. Divya Chowdhry, Director, Jagran Institute of Management, emphasized that the role of educational institutions extends beyond imparting academic knowledge and professional skills. She stated that institutions must also focus on developing human values, social awareness, and a spirit of service among students. She further expressed that Jagran Institute of Management would continue organizing such socially responsible initiatives under NSS in the future to strengthen its commitment towards society.

The programme was successfully coordinated by Dr. Anand Kumar Dixit and Dr. Pawan Omar, Faculty members and students actively participated in making the initiative successful.

The donation drive served as a meaningful step towards community welfare and reinforced the institute's commitment to the objectives of NSS by nurturing socially responsible, compassionate, and service-oriented individuals.
